Angelika Seeschaaf Veres is a Toronto based industrial designer, educator and researcher utilizing an interdisciplinary, human centered approach to the design and making of furniture, products, retail interiors and fashion. In 2004 she launched eeaa design, a design studio in London UK. Eeaa explores the intersection of daily routines, human body and space by developing products, furniture, and retail interiors. Eeaa's internationally renowned clients include Haworth-Roeder, Nike, Herman Miller, Jaime Hayon Studio, and British artist Damien Hirst. She regularly collaborates with other designers to playfully explore the boundaries between different design disciplines.
